Follow All Followers of a Specific User

Choose a Twitter User

- Choose influential profiles
- Profiles with more followers will provide quicker results

Be Mindful of . . .

- Following Matt Cutts' mother!
- Following second and third profiles of users

Time Your Approach Appropriately

- Don't target the same profile too often
- Profiles that email notifications of new follows may notice your tactics if it's not spaced out

Choose a Proper Phrase

- Choose a phrase that allows you to interact or share commonality

Be Mindful of...

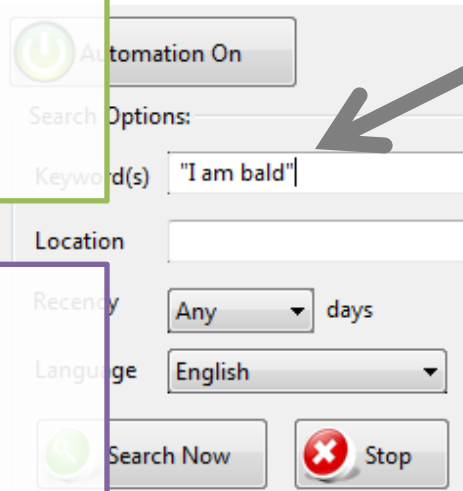

- Avoiding “Matt Cutts is a good boy” as it would result in . . . Following Matt Cutts’ mother! 😊
- Being too general or too specific
- Other meanings of phrases and languages

Advantages of This Tactic...

- Following brand name mentions delayed long enough to not appear as a bot
- Finding common interests with other Twitter users

Follow Everyone That Tweets a Specific Phrase

A Very Important Group of People! 😊

Automatically Tweet Info from an RSS Feed

Find the Proper RSS Feed

- Find an RSS Feed that will be reliably interesting and accurate for you to share without curating

Be Mindful of...

- Automatically sharing brand term related RSS feeds...may be BAD NEWS you're sharing!
- Freshness of the information you're sharing with your followers

Advantages of This Tactic...

- Perception by followers that you are completely on top of your topic area
- Less effort to share other's content on the web
- Reciprocal tweet exchanges with other influencers (it's not banned by Google...yet!)

Post RSS Tweet Every 10 to 30 Minutes
